

Do you feel Lucky? Learnings from near-miss case studies

19 June 2019

The US Gulf Coast Members Group invites you to their one-hour webinar, featuring guest presenter, Ian Robertson.

Safe and reliable operations should be everyone's first priority and it's important to learn from our own as well as other's mistakes. Near misses are sometimes not given the same external visibility as incidents leading to personnel harm and/or equipment damage. But often, the difference between an incident and a near miss is pure luck.
