About Advances 2025

Advances in the Digitalisation of the Process Industries is IChemE's biennial conference for engineering and process industry professionals working in cybersecurity/safety, digitalisation, information management, process automation, process control, process modelling, process simulation and other related fields.

The conference will explore best practice, emergent thinking and future implications of a dynamic and rapidly changing technology environment, with a specific focus in the following areas: Advanced Process Automation; Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning; Data Management and Integration; Digital Risk Management Strategies; Digital Twin Technology and Industrial Internet of Things (IIoT).

Sponsoring or exhibiting at Advances can help you generate new business leads, raise brand awareness, demonstrate your commitment to good practice and provide a cost-effective, time-effective way to catch up with current clients and contacts.

Whatever your aim, we can help.
